BARGE COOK IS DROWNED IN NEW LONDON HARBOR Falling off of the barke Allekhens n the rear of the F. H. & A. H. Chappell Coal Co., at 4:45 Thursday afternoon in New London Thomas Wil-son, a cook aboard the barge, was drowned in the waters of the Thames river. The manner in which the vic-tim fell into the river remains a comtim fell into the river remains a com-plete mystery, accord to Sergt. Nelson S. Smith, who directed the polica searching party, which dragged the river for four hours and finally rais-ed the body early Friday afternoon. Among Wilson's effects found aboard the barge, was an honorable discharge paper from the United States army made out to floy G. Kleckner, born in Lewisburg, Pa., enlisted at Fort Slo-cum, March 1, 1917, at age of 19 years, made corporal Dec. 1929, Also a let-ter to Mr. Wilson from a sinter "Jenie"

and several pictures. The police are at a loss to explain how Wilson came to be in possession of the discharge

SMALL POSTAL CARDS ARE

HANDICAPS IN THE MAIL d to the newspapers of the country 10 he p it out in a difficulty which con-fronts it with the approach of Christ-mas. It is the mailing of Christmas mas. It is the mishing of Caristinas cares in ministure envelopes, which are too small to be handled conveniently in the post offices, and which therefore cause a great deal of delay. The small envelope and card fad is of comparatively late origin, it is pointed out, but t is growing rapidly.

The minimum size of envelopes and cards which can be handled expeditious-ly is 2 3-4 by 4 inches, and the 'ess there mailed under these dimensions the easier it will be for the office to nandle

With the smaller cards there is a delay in the beginning because of the add-ed difficulty in sorting them. They cannot be run through the facing table be-cause of their size, and that makes an-other delay. It is possible to run them through the cancelling machines, but with so much delay that it is easier to hand-stamp them, and the size of the envelope often causes the obliteration of the addresse by the cancellation mark. There is also a danger of loss because the small envelopes and cards do not fit into the letter packages and cannot be tled securely.
